

Marta Fàbregas i Aragall

www.martafabregas.com

Anything that has to do with image is part of Marta Fàbregas' DNA. She has always felt passionate about the visual language, and that's why she chose to devote herself to photography, her passion, which allows her to combine both her artistic and entrepreneurial sides.

Her main talent is knowing how to capture, in a fast and natural way, the beauty in the things that surround her. That's where the power of her work comes from. She can give brightness and sparkle to everything that passes through her lenses. Undoubtedly, empathy, implication and creativity are what gives every project in which she engages a power and a character that makes it special and unique.

She was born in Barcelona on April 12th, 1974, and studied Photography at IEFC (Institut d'Estudis Fotogràfics de Catalunya).

She worked in several photo studios in Barcelona and, in 1998, co-founded Estudi La Fotogràfica (www.lafotografica.com) with the also photographer Marc Vidal.

From then on, she has been mainly devoted to her studio, where she developed personal and artistic work, along with commissions from museums, businesses, and private clients. She also teaches classes, workshops and seminars.

Her work is part of the private collection of the Lluís Bassat Foundation and the Artemisia Foundation.

She co-directed the first edition of the photography festival "Lumínic", which took place in Sant Cugat during the spring of 2019.

She is part of the directive team of the congress "Líder imperfecto" (imperfect leader) as "Expert in Art and Enterprise".

Since 2019 she has actively worked with the foundation SETBA teaching workshops in favor of women (Foundation dedicated to social action through art).

She is currently the President of a women's entrepreneurs' network, Xarxa de Dones Emprendedores de Sant Cugat (XDESC), in the city where she currently lives.
